Dear Acting Director Vought,

I want to thank you for your hard work as our country continues to address COVID-19. I write today to encourage you to complete the final review of the rule titled "Hours of Service of Drivers" submitted by the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMSCA).

One of the many things this crisis has highlighted is the importance of truckers. Thanks to truckers we have food on our shelves and hospitals can get live-saving medicines and protective equipment. During this crisis in order to facilitate fast shipping of essential goods, drivers were given extra flexibility in their hours of service.

When our country overcomes this virus, it is vital that the federal government continues to allow flexibility for truckers. This new rule will be important for our country's recovery.

Truckers are essential for our country. I encourage you to complete your final review of this rule to provide for continued flexibility for truckers when our nation reopens. Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Sincerely,
